

Global Study on Homicide Report 2023

Context: UNODC has released a report on the causes of deaths as a part of homicide with a data from 2021 and 2022.

- In 2021, there were approximately 458,000 intentional homicides globally, averaging 52 victims per hour, marking an exceptionally lethal year.
- The African continent recorded the highest intentional homicides in 2021, with an estimated 176,000 victims, followed by the Americas with 154,000, Asia with 109,000, Europe with 17,000, and Oceania with 1,000.
- Homicide rates per 100,000 population indicate a higher risk in the Americas (15.0) compared to other regions, surpassing rates in Africa (12.7), Oceania (2.9), Asia (2.3), and Europe (2.2).
- In terms of global distribution, Africa accounted for 38%, the Americas for 34%, Asia for 24%, Europe for 4%, and Oceania for less than 1% of all homicide victims in 2021.
- Notably, Brazil and Nigeria, constituting only 6% of the world population, contributed to 20% of the global homicide toll.
- The top 10 countries with the highest absolute numbers of homicide victims collectively represented 58% of global victims, despite constituting only 37% of the global population.

- The rise in homicide numbers in 2021 can be attributed to various factors, including the economic repercussions of COVID-19-related restrictions and an increase in gang-related and socio-political violence.
- Available 2022 data show a 5.4% decrease in homicides in Northern America, contrasting with an increasing homicide rate over the past decade and recent surge in the United States.
- Several countries in the Caribbean experienced a significant increase in homicidal violence in 2021 and 2022, linked to crime, trafficking, access to firearms, ammunition, and the expansion and fragmentation of gangs seeking to control territory.
- Estimates indicate that Africa had the highest absolute number of homicides in 2021, and available data suggest that the homicide rate is not falling, making Africa particularly vulnerable to homicide, considering its young population and persisting inequality gaps.

India Specific Findings:

- Property and Land Disputes in India: Disputes over property, land, or water access accounted for nearly 16.8% of murder cases in India between 2019 and 2021, according to the UNODC.
- Water-Related Conflicts in Murder Cases: Approximately 0.5% or 300 murders in India during 2019-21 were attributed to water-related conflicts, as revealed by the UNODC's Global Study on Homicide Report 2023.
- Role of Water Access Disputes: Disputes over water access played a significant role in interpersonal homicides outside of families, serving as a prominent driver, as highlighted in the report.

21 December, 2023

- Factors Worsening Water-Related Violence: The report indicates that disputes over water access, exacerbated by population growth, economic expansion, and climate change, have contributed to increased violence.
- Impact of Natural Resource Scarcity: The report notes that natural resource scarcity, including water, has an impact on international homicides, citing increased violence due to competition over resources.
- Regional Incidents of Water-Related Violence: Data from the Pacific Institute shows a significant increase in water-related violence incidents since 2015, particularly in Southern Asia, sub-Saharan Africa, and Central America.
- Diverse Motives for Murders: The report outlines various motives for murders in the interpersonal category, including honour killings, love affairs, illicit relationships, personal vendettas, dowry disputes, witchcraft, psychopathy, road rage, and rape.
- Exceptional Lethality in 2021: Despite the consistent stability in global homicide counts over the past two decades, the year 2021 stood out as exceptionally lethal, according to the UNODC report.
- Water-Related Conflicts in Previous Years: A report from the National Crime Records Bureau in 2020 revealed that at least 232 Indians lost their lives in water-related conflicts in 2017-19, with a doubling of such crimes in 2018 compared to 2017.

The National Capital Territory of Delhi Laws (Special Provisions) Second (Amendment) Bill, 2023

Context: Both the Houses of Parliament passed The National Capital Territory of Delhi Laws (Special Provisions) Second (Amendment) Bill, 2023, extending the protection, originally set to conclude this year, until December 31, 2026.

- Protection for Specific Groups: No punitive action, such as demolitions or sealing, can be taken against certain categories, including slum dwellers, hawkers, and unauthorized colonies in Delhi for the next three years.
- Minister's Justification: Housing and Urban Affairs Minister Hardeep Puri emphasized the necessity to extend the provision to safeguard the 40 lakh residents of unauthorized colonies in Delhi from "inhumane" actions.
- Background of the Law:
 - The legislation originated in response to sealing drives initiated by the Municipal Corporation of Delhi in 2006 following orders from the Delhi High Court and Supreme Court against unauthorized constructions.
 - The original law, The Delhi Laws (Special Provisions) Act, 2006, protected certain unauthorized constructions for one year.
 - Subsequent amendments extended the protection until 2014, and the NDA government has made three amendments, each extending the protection for three years at a time.
- Amendment Details: The recent amendment replaces the year 2023 with 2026, prolonging the protections for another three years, covering unauthorized constructions up to June 1, 2014.
- Objectives of the Amendment:
 - The amendment emphasizes the need for orderly arrangements for the relocation and rehabilitation of residents in various unauthorized constructions.
 - It notes the ongoing process of conferring ownership rights to residents of unauthorized colonies and the notification of development control norms for these colonies.
- Future Considerations:
 - While protections have been extended, questions remain about the future and the possibility of another extension in 2026.
 - Delays in conferring ownership rights, exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic, have impacted the process, with only 4 lakh registrations out of 40-50 lakh individuals living in unauthorized colonies.
 - The draft Master Plan Delhi-2041, in its final stages, is expected to provide details of development norms for unauthorized colonies, slums, etc.
- Article 239AA:
 - Constitutional Background:
 - Article 239AA was added to the Constitution through The Constitution (69th Amendment) Act, 1991, to grant Special Status to Delhi.
 - The amendment followed recommendations from the S Balakrishnan Committee, addressing demands for statehood for Delhi.
 - Provisions of Article 239AA:
 - Establishes an Administrator and a Legislative Assembly for the National Capital Territory (NCT) of Delhi.
 - Grants legislative powers to the Legislative Assembly over matters in the State List or Concurrent List, applicable to Union territories, with exceptions for police, public order, and land.
 - Limitations on Legislative Powers:
 - Legislative Assembly's authority is subject to constitutional provisions.

- Excludes powers related to police, public order, and land, which remain outside the Legislative Assembly's purview.
- Role of the Lieutenant Governor (L-G): Article 239AA outlines the L-G's role, stating that they must either act on the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers or implement decisions taken by the President on reference.
- Resolution of Differences:
 - Empowers the L-G to refer any difference of opinion with the Council of Ministers on 'any matter' to the President for resolution.
 - This provision introduces a mechanism for conflict resolution in the governance structure.
- Dual Control Dynamics:
 - The existence of dual control between the L-G and the elected government creates a power tussle.
 - This dynamic often results in conflicts over decision-making authority and governance issues in the NCT of Delhi.

Lowest number of Audits by CAG in 2023

Context: In the year 2023, Parliament received and tabled only 18 audit reports on the accounts of the Union government, as prepared by the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG).

➤ Audit Reports on Union Government:

- A year-wise analysis reveals a decline in the number of audit reports on the Union Government's accounts tabled in Parliament.
- Between 2019 and 2023, an average of 22 reports were presented annually, in contrast to the 40 reports per year from 2014 to 2018.
- The peak was in 2015 with 53 reports, but in four of the last six years, 20 or fewer reports were tabled.

➤ Department-wise Trends:

- Similar declining trends were observed across departments, such as the Railways Department, with 14 reports in the last five years compared to 27 in the preceding period.
- The Civil Department published 34 audit reports in the last five years, down from 42 in the previous five-year period.
- The Defence Department's latest available report dates back to 2017, with concerns about accessibility, as stated by former CAG Rajiv Mehrishi in 2020.

➤ IA&AD Staff Strength:

- The IA&AD, headed by the CAG, witnessed a decline in staff strength from 48,253 in 2013-14 to 41,675 in 2021-22.
- The number of IA&AS officers reduced from 789 in 2014-15 to 553 in 2021-22.
- The audit and accounting staff decreased from over 26,000 in 2013-14 to 20,320 in 2021-22.
- The total employees as a share of sanctioned posts remained relatively stable, fluctuating between 66% and 75%.

➤ Budget Allocation to IA&AD:

- The budget allocated to the IA&AD, as a percentage of the Union Budget's total expenditure, declined from 0.19% in FY17 to 0.13% in FY24.
- In absolute terms, the IA&AD budget increased from ₹3,780 crore in FY17 to ₹5,806 crore in FY24, reflecting a 53% rise, significantly lower than the 128% increase in the Union Budget's total expenditure during the same period.

➤ CAG and its functions:

- The Constitution of India (Article 148) establishes the independent office of the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG).
- As the head of the Indian Audit and Accounts Department, CAG plays a vital role in upholding the democratic system of government in India.
- CAG serves as the guardian of the public purse and exercises control over the entire financial system of the country at both the central and state levels.
- The primary duty of CAG is to uphold the Constitution of India and parliamentary laws in the realm of financial administration.
- Constitutional Provisions:
 - Article 148 deals with CAG's appointment, oath, and conditions of service.
 - Article 149 outlines the duties and powers of the Comptroller and Auditor-General of India.
 - Article 150 empowers the President, on CAG's advice, to prescribe the form in which the accounts of the Union and States are kept.
 - Article 151 mandates that CAG's reports on Union accounts be submitted to the President, who, in turn, lays them before both Houses of Parliament.
 - Article 279 involves CAG in the calculation of "net proceeds," with his certificate being deemed final.

- Appointment, Term & Removal:
 - CAG is appointed by the President through a warrant under his hand and seal.
 - CAG holds office for six years or until the age of 65, whichever is earlier, and can resign at any time.
 - Removal requires a resolution by both Houses of Parliament with a special majority, based on proven misbehavior or incapacity.
- Independence:
 - Provisions ensure CAG's security of tenure, making him not subject to removal at the pleasure of the President.
 - CAG is ineligible for further government office after leaving the position.
 - Parliament determines CAG's salary and service conditions, equating it to that of a Supreme Court judge.
 - Salary, leave, pension, and retirement rights cannot be altered to CAG's disadvantage post-appointment.
 - Administrative expenses of CAG's office are charged upon the Consolidated Fund of India, not subject to parliamentary vote.
 - No minister can represent or take responsibility for CAG's actions in Parliament.
- Duties of CAG:
 - Audits cover expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India, each state's Consolidated Fund, Contingency Fund, and Public Account.
 - Audits include trading, manufacturing, profit and loss accounts, and subsidiary accounts of Central and state governments.
 - CAG audits bodies substantially financed by Central or State revenues, government companies, and other relevant entities.
 - Certifies the net proceeds of taxes or duties, with the certificate being final.
